The background of the slide features a traditional Chinese landscape painting in a monochromatic brown and gold palette. The scene depicts a body of water in the foreground, with a dense line of trees and a building on the far bank. Overlaid on this scene is a large, semi-transparent calligraphic inscription in a cursive style. The text of the calligraphy is partially obscured by the main title text.

The Four-Stroke Engine to Make a Nation Great – Voice from the Heart of an Immigrant (9)

國家勝強的四衝程引擎 – 移民心聲（九）

The Four-Stroke Engine to Make a Nation Great -- Voice from the Heart of an Immigrant (9)

guó jiā shèng jiàng de sì chōng chéng yǐn qīng yí mín xīn shēng jiǔ 國家勝強的四衝程引擎 - 移民心聲 (九)

Call me naïve, but that is my idea. Very simple! All we need to do is to be honest to start with beginning with the White House. As a bonus, I will like to present a Chinese political idea that has been there for at least four hundred years:

“禮義廉恥， (Propriety, justice, integrity, and honor) 國之四維。 (are the four cornerstones of a nation.) 四維不張， 國乃 滅亡。 ” (When the four cornerstones are not established, the nation will be doomed to perish.) 禮義， 治人之大法； (With propriety and justice, the government functions properly and powerfully ;) 廉恥，立人之大節。(with integrity and honor, the individuals become responsible citizens.) 況為大臣而無廉恥，(If even the top government officials do not practice integrity and honor,) 天下其有不

亂、國家其有不亡者乎！(you have got to be kidding if you expect people's lives are not turned upside down and the fate of the nation does not kiss the dust!)

